"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A Weekly Review of National Affairs

(By Wilfrid Eggleston)

Ottawa, Sept. 9th.—An attack on the housing problem of the Dominion will be a leading feature of the next session of parliament.

- 1.—Industrial low-rental housing.
- 2.—Moral housing.
- 3.—Encouraging of the small home owner.

4.—Home Improvement and Rehabilitation.

There is a general recognition that this program is at least a year overdue, but various factors, including the short session, and the constitutional fight, prevented the government from proceeding with it in full last session, as strongly urged by the National Employment Commission.

There is a tremendous backlog of residential and other building in Canada, some authorities believe that Canada could use, at once, 100,000 new houses to cost not more than 200 million dollars, in the industrial and rural field, not counting the more expensive types of city dwelling.

An examination of building statistics for recent years shows how much slack there is to be taken up.

A study made by the Bank of Nova Scotia two years ago stated as follows:—

"On the basis of the average volume of residential building during the eleven years 1921 to 1931, a backlog had accumulated by the close of 1931 which amounted to perhaps $200 million. In view of the low level of such building this year and last, the estimate of the backlog—postponed work that will in time need to be done—would now be substantially larger. Such a calculation assumes that the average volume of building during those eleven years was normal, and that the same normal will be the standard for the future. This assumption may or may not be correct. Certain it is, however, that the Canadian people are now less adequately housed than they were in the late twenties; that many houses need repair; and that few dwellings are entirely up to date."

Nothing has happened since that was written to change the picture materially. The year 1936 was again far below normal in residential building. This year has shown some recovery towards normal levels, but even the year 1936 was only 25 percent of normal, and in 1932, the worst year, it was only 13 per cent. Looking back to such years as 1928 and 1929, when well over a hundred percent of normal, and in 1932, the worst year, it was only 13 per cent. Looking back to such years as 1928 and 1929, when well over a hundred percent of normal, and in 1932, the worst year, it was only 13 per cent. Looking back to such years as 1928 and 1929, when well over a hundred percent of normal, and in 1932, the worst year, it was only 13 per cent.

What is holding back building now? Admitted high taxes are a serious factor. The industrial worker is not building a home, because in most cases he has not the capital, nor can he afford to pay sufficiently high rent, to encourage someone else with the capital to construct modern homes for him.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strang

Director "Crop Trade Council"

"The malt bar, like the woman, 'to get her' result was humor her. Besides, the fellow who drank the beer in plausibly particular, so far as it grew, malt bar must be plausibly particular also."

This was the sage advice given to me by Philippe, one of the best breed men who ever came out of Quebec. Philippe's father was 'moss' smart man for grow malt bar."

Philippe helped us to win many a dollar for matting peninsulas. In his advice, much in his own words.—

1.—Malt bar (U. A. C. vint and medals) you know.

2.—Nevaire cut crop till she's ripe. Green kernel malt bar of poor malt.

3.—Malt bar (U. A. C. vint and medals) you know. Nevaire's malt bar. To do it's malt.

him, and rent them to him. The farmer has had to let building side because of poor crops or prices or both. Even without government assistance, a vast forward move in residential building and repair would seem to be inevitable, if times improve. Farm revenues, except in the drought areas, are going to be higher, and that means more money for buildings. Industrial wages are on the mend, which will encourage residential building in cities and other industrial areas.

The proposal held over last winter by the federal government called for a grant of five million a year for two years toward the building of low rental housing in industrial regions. The provinces were to put up dollar, for dollar, and the subsidy was to bridge the gap between what such houses would cost and what the worker could afford to pay. Some similar scheme for cheap money for farm building is also under consideration. Building costs are rising, but they are still below the 1928 level, and over 10 per cent below the post war peak.

CHARTERED BANK BROADCASTS

Canada's Chartered Banks through their Public Relations Adviser, Vernon Knowles, are conducting a series of non-political, non-controversial radio broadcasts on the Pensions and Operations of Canadian Banks. It was learned from Edmonton today.

The first of the series was heard Tuesday night, Sept. 7. The addresses are being broadcast over an all Alberta Network Tuesday nights from 10:15 to 10:30 and Wednesdays in the daytime from 1:15 to 1:30.

Mr. Knowles, who homesteaded in Alberta in 1909, is a former well known newspaper man who has worked on several western daily newspapers. He was Editor and Manager of the Winnipeg Telegram and later Manager of the Winnipeg Tribune. He was also served in the Parliament as Press Gallery at Ottawa and in the Press Galleries of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario. He was Editor and a Member of the Board of Directors of the Toronto Mail and Empire from 1928 to 1932 and from 1933 to the end of last year was Managing Editor of the Toronto Daily Star.

In 1937 he assumed his present position.

In commenting on the series of broadcasts Mr. Knowles laid particular stress upon the fact that they were designed to be completely non-political.

BOARD OF HEALTH

A meeting of the local Board of Health was held in the Town Council Tuesday evening, immediately preceding a meeting of the Town Council, present—The Chairman, Mayor Hughes, Mr. Quinn and Dr. Giffen, M. H. O.

The meeting was called in view of the spreading of Infantile Paralysis from the East to Western Canada, to spread precautions to stop its spread here, if possible. It was recommended that Dr. Giffen prepare a statement by way of a warning to parents, which the Board agreed to do, and which will be found in this issue.

WEDNESDAY'S POLITICAL GATHERING IN CALGARY

By actual count 500 persons gathered in the Victoria Pavilion and adjoining buildings Wednesday evening to attend the Political Meeting. This was the first public organized protest registered against Premier Abbott and his inefficient government. The number of hearers can be multiplied very many times by the number who sat at home and "listened in" on their own radio.

The meeting was an orderly earnest demonstration, that a large portion of the People have grown weary of waiting for the Premier to fulfill any of his promises he so glibly made. If Mr. Aberhart himself were listening he must assuredly could not have felt for his resignation, representing "The Will of the People" when the two resolutions, one denouncing his Sunday Broadcasts, and the other asking for his resignation, were received with such thunderous applause.

Addresses were given by Mayor A. Davison, Lon Cavanaugh, President of the Calgary Board of Trade, E. L. Gray newly elected Leader of the Liberal Party, Mr. Davies of Edinburg and Hon. D. M. Duggan, Conservative Leader.

Teacher (to boys)—If you were to have another eye, where would you like it to be?

On my finger end, replied one of the boys.

Why, asked the teacher.

So that I could stick it through the fence and see the football match.

WARNING—INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Due to the prevalence of this disease in the province the health of children is to be kept under the most careful supervision to ward the public of the early symptoms so that early diagnosis may be made. This results in better treatment with less chance of death.

paralysis and less chance of spreading it to others.

(Owing to the fact that the first symptoms may be like influenza, a cold, or an upset stomach, and also because many mild cases may never be diagnosed, it is advisable to treat with caution any adult or child who is not feeling well, at a time when the disease is around)—that is, keep them separate with special towels, dishes, etc., and destroy all excreta, especially from the nose and throat. This prevents flies from spreading the disease.

The onset is generally sudden, either influenza like, or with nausea, vomiting or diarrhea.

Headache is generally early, in the forehead, usually, moderately severe and persistent.

General Malaise, Patient feels quite sick and generally weak.

Fever is always present. 99.12 to 104 or more.

Bending the head forward will likely cause pain.

Head cold, sore throat, and bronchitis may be present. Irritability and drowsiness may be present. Tenderness of the skin and muscles may occur but generally later than before paralysis occurs.

There will likely be rigidity of the spine, stiffness of the neck and the head held backwards. Trembling of the muscles may occur on attempted exertion.

After a day or two of fever a remission of one to four days may occur before a severe fever and nervous symptoms may occur, so any fever should be kept in bed and carefully checked with a thermometer till it is entirely gone.

Suspicious cases should be reported at once to the M. H. O.

Precautions for Prevention

Keep children away from crowds, (best to keep in home town and avoid strangers). Fever is a good but no close contact between children. Plenty of good food and rest are advisable. Keep dust and flies from houses. Wash all fruit and vegetables.

Should the disease become local the Board of Health will furnish nasal sprays for the Iowa school children but until such time, no action is thought necessary.

J. W. GIFFEN, M. H. O.

THEORY AND PRACTICE

There is hardly a grain producer in this province but knows that, theoretically, the cooperative system is the soundest and the best. While many thousands support their belief in a practical way by patronizing cooperative institutions such as Alberta Pool Elevators, others fail to do so. If the theory is sound and right it should be supported.

A movement is being planned having as its object the local improvement of our town. In the near future a meeting will be called, when it is hoped to have representatives present from the various organizations of the town, when details will be fully discussed and plans formed.

When I was a boy at school,
I was a coward and a fool,
And fool and coward I have stayed
All these years, I was afraid
Of pain and scornful boys; and then
Afraid of ridicule and men;
Afraid of drawing vital breath;
And I shall be afraid of death.
("Fear", by Julian Husley).

So that men might remain slaves, and that the little good they hoped for might be turned all bad and the iron tie stamped and clamped on growing tender and vigorous truth these machine guns were dispatched from Italy.

So that the drunken General and the Christian millionaire might continue blindly to rule in darkness, that on rape and ruin order might be founded firm, these guns were sent to save civilization.

Let the hand should be held at last more valuable than paper, let man's body and mind should be counted more than gold,
let love should blossom, not shell,
and break in the land
these machine guns came from Christian Italy.

And to court and reason, let hope be held in it, to turn love inward into carolling hate,
let men should be men, for the bank-note and the mystery these guns, these tanks, these gentlemanly words.

BEE KEEPING

placed on the this empty super and then a super containing the winter supply of food.

Next either the bottom board is placed upside down on the hive so formed or else a cover with an entrance in it as described in the last issue.

The hive or hives so found now stand in the middle of the ditch with a space of 5 inches between them and the willow stick walls of the ditch.
This space is filled with insulating material such as hay, leaves, shavings sawdust or straw. The top of the hive should now be standing up above the insulating material and surface level about 4 to 6 inches.

Bank up the back and sides with insulation. Place a sack filled with the same material up against the front of the hive leaving the top entrance clear. Place several sacks on top of the hive and cover with tar paper to throw any moisture well away from the hives. Rocks may be used to hold the tar paper down.

In this way almost perfect insulation is obtained for a minimum of cost. The only attention needed during the winter is to see that the entrance does not get blocked with drifting snow.

This operation of putting the hives away for the winter should be carried out between the 5th and 10th. Sept.
This has been described in order to give the reader plenty of time to make this preparation. Several things have to be done before the above is carried out.

NOTE—The brood chamber in fact the whole hive should be moved away some twenty or more yards to one side of its present location and a super should be placed with bottom board and cover on the old site. This will get rid of all old bees which will return to the old site. These old bees should be killed in a few days. This should be done immediately.

BETTY BARCLAY SAYS

Any bride can score honors as a Queen Cook if she uses these magic, failure proof recipes.

"Grainy" frostings and "runny" creamery pies were failures that embarrassed even the most expert cooks when grandmother was a bride. But, nowadays, even the beginner can score honors as a queen cook. If she uses the magic in a can of sweetened condensed milk. Just add melted chocolate to this magic milk, and in five minutes you have a rich, creamy filling for a pie supreme, that's never too thick or too thin. Made with this magic milk, frostings always spread in creamy smooth swirls.

The work is half done before you start because sweetened condensed milk is a pre-cooked blend of two ingredients—milk and sugar—cooked down until it is as rich and thick as heavy cream. This magic milk always combines smoothly and quickly with other ingredients.

Never Fail Chocolate Pie—
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 1/2 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk, 1/2 cup water, Baked pie shell (rich)

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk, stirring over boiling water 5 minutes until mixture thickens. Add water. Stir until thoroughly blended. Pour into baked pie shell. Garnish with whipped cream if desired. Chill.

THE OTHER DAY WE ASKED A MAN FOR HIS PRINTING AND HE TOLD US:

"OH, OUR PRINTING DOESN'T AMOUNT TO MUCH. ALL WE HAVE IS A FEW SMALL ORDERS, AND NONE OF THEM EVER RUN INTO ANYTHING THAT LOOKS LIKE MONEY."

THOSE LITTLE ORDERS ARE THE KIND THAT MAKE OUR BUSINESS.

MOST OF OUR BUSINESS IS IN THE PRINTING OF LETTERHEADS, ENVELOPES, CIRCULARS, POSTERS, OFFICE FORMS, AND OTHER SMALL ORDERS.

WE APPRECIATE A SMALL ORDER AS WELL AS WE DO A BIG ONE.

SO, IF YOU HAVE ANY SMALL ORDERS FOR PRINTING, WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT WE ARE GLAD TO GET THEM. WE APPRECIATE THEM JUST AS MUCH—AND TAKE JUST AS GOOD CARE OF THEM—AS IF THEY ACTUALLY AMOUNTED TO HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS.

Micha: 6:8. "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

"THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE"

Mr. Aberhart claim that the mandate which his Government has from the people of Alberta, represents the will of the people of Alberta.

How far this is from actual fact—the Premier must know—for a very great number of the people of Alberta stand against at the assertion. It is a misleading statement that is unavailing.

The time is ripening for an election in which party politics should be forgotten, and a coalition party lined up under one strong, able trustworthy leader, in which people and leader will put petty personalities and personal aggrandizement in the discard, and think and act only for the good and well being of our Province. Let each put aside any political trickery, place his cards on the table and work with the one end in view, that is a sane, progressive practical government for our Province.

It is not an impossible goal, if all will be true to their better judgment. Then will the "Will of the People" be expressed and our Province attain to a standard of legislation and living, of which she is worthy.

TOWN COUNCIL

A meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening with a full attendance, excepting Councillor Brown, at present on holiday, and Councillor Keeling.

A deputation, consisting of Mrs. Nichol and Mrs. Moore, attended the meeting. The deputation last before the meeting a proposal to improve the look of Main Street by cleaning up and brightening the appearance of empty stores. Mr. McMurray of the C. P. R. having promised to put a display in one of these store windows. The Council accepted the proposal willingly, thanked the ladies for submitting it, and promised to co-operate and assist the ladies in their laudable endeavour.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange Director, Research Department,
Grain Company, Ltd.

A drastic decline has taken place in the world's demand for export wheat. Mr. Broomhall estimates that the importing countries will buy this year only 496 million bushels.

This is in striking contrast to the $18 millions which was the annual average amount purchased for 5 years prior to 1931, and to the 249 million bushels, the sales for 1925 alone.

We are told that millions of people need more bread. Why, then, is more export wheat not purchased?

It is mainly because of an extraordinary economic depression that has recently gripped the minds of most Governments; that their people can become richer and richer by bringing in less and less of the goods and services of other countries. Governments forget, apparently, that the imports from others constitute, in the end, the only means of payment for their own export products.

John Mackay, eminent English philosopher, in considering these curious illusions and misadventures, wrote "Men think in herds, they go mad in herds, and recover their sanity slowly, and one by one".

By Mackay notes, however, that economic sanity does eventually return. Let us hope, for the sake of the wheat producers, and of all of us, that it may be so.

Following factors have tended to raise price—Hostilities between China and Japan increase to serious proportions—Floating wheat stocks decrease—Complaints from farmers of slow harvesting operations and much damage to wheat—World visible stocks less than last year—Indian monsoon a failure—European fruit prospects poor.

Following factors have tended to lower price—World demand for export wheat continues small—Roumanian wheat estimate increased—Substantial Turkish wheat surplus—Yields increased in many parts of Europe—Rains check deterioration in Southern Hemisphere—Export considerable increase in Swiss potato crop—Sweden removes ban on export of food grains.
